ST. PAUL, Minn.—A definite policy for farm relief legislation was expected to be adopted today at the concluding session of the national conference of farm organizations.

William Groves Dies at St. Ritas Hospital Friday

INJURY TO HAND CAUSE

Powder Burn Resulted in Death of Allyn Ferry

Groves is the second victim of lockjaw here in one day. Allyn Ferry, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Ferry, 1000 Rice-av, died Friday morning at St. Rita's hospital from tetanus, resulting from an injury sustained July 4 when he shot his hand with a blank cartridge from a toy revolver.

BROTHER OF OHIO PRISON CHAPLAIN JAILED

E. C. REED HELD AT COLUMBUS

Accused of Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses

TRAPPED BY DICTAPHONE

Linked With Plan to Release Convicts

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — A probe into reports that prisoners were being released at the state penitentiary for money considerations has resulted in the arrest of two men, it was learned here today when E. C. Reed, brother of Chaplain T. O. Reed, of the penitentiary, and Herbert Huffman, were taken in charge.

Reed was held in city jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and Huffman is charged with embezzlement.

The probe, ordered by Governor Donahey, was conducted by William N. Smith, superintendent of the state bureau of criminal identification, and extended over period of four months.

Reed's arrest was caused last night when detectives and Smith with the aid of a dictaphone heard Reed accept a payment of $300 from Mrs. Harry Cowdery for the release of her husband who is serving a term for second degree murder. The arrest was made at Mrs. Cowdery's home here.

CONFESSION SOUGHT

Detectives declare that Reed told Mrs. Cowdery he would obtain a pardon for her husband for a consideration of $1,000, $300 of which was to be paid at once. The down payment, detectives declared, Reed told Mrs. Cowdery was to pay expenses for securing a confession from Mrs. Nell Wardlowe, an inmate of Marysville reformatory for women, which would exonerate Cowdery of the crime. Mrs. Wardlowe was convicted in Hamilton-co with Cowdery on a murder charge resulting from the death of the woman's husband, William, more than six years ago.

The conversation between Mrs. Cowdery and Reed was taken in shorthand by a stenographer and will be used as evidence against him.

Huffman, secretary to superintendent Smith, was taken into custody this morning on charges that Huffman told C. L. Johnson, Cuyahoga-co convict, that for $100 he would secure his release thru "influential friends" in the city. Superintendent Smith declared that Huffman did not carry out his agreement, but kept the amount. Huffman was paroled last February, after serving a sentence for embezzlement. While a prisoner he was made assistant to Superintendent Smith and after being paroled was retained on a salary.

Reed, detectives said, had access to the files of the penitentiary thru his brother, Chaplain Reed, and learned when each convict would be before the parole board and knew in advance when each would be pardoned. With this information Reed would visit relatives of convicts and bargain for the release of prisoners.

WOMAN FINED IN LIQUOR CASE

Still and Liquor Found in Raid, Sheriff Asserts

Twenty-five gallon copper still and a small quantity of liquor confiscated Friday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Smith and Osbun resulted in the arrest of Rhoda Barth, 634 S. Union-st, and the imposition of a $100 fine by Judge J. H. Hamilton in probate court.

Raid culminated as the aftermath of anonymous tips received by Sheriff Harvey B. Crosson that liquor was being manufactured at the Barth farm in Hardin-co or else at the S. Union-st home.

Friday afternoon two simultaneous raids were completed by Sheriff Crosson and deputies. Sheriff Crosson, accompanied by the sheriff of Hardin-co, searched the farm in Hardin-co, while Deputies Osbun and Smith searched the S. Union-st home and discovered the copper wash boiler and the small amount of illicit liquor in a bottle.

Rhoda Barth at arraignment before Judge Hamilton told the court that the liquor was manufactured for medicinal purposes and not for sale. Fine of $100 was not paid, but arrangements were completed whereby the woman was released upon promise to meet the fine as announced at the courthouse.

WILD PARTRIDGES NEST ON SIX STORY BUILDING

YORK, Pa. — The unusual sight of a family of partridges nesting on the roof of a six-story office building in the heart of the business section of the city, is attracting attention here. The roof is of pitch covered with a half-inch of gravel. One of the birds is mothering her brood of two young ones.

Those who go to the roof to watch the birds can do so without disturbing them, as the instinct of the partridge prompts it to lie still when danger is scented and to rely upon its natural camouflage for protection. According to workers in the building, the birds have been coming there regularly for several years.

ARMY BATTLING FOREST FIRES

Flames Spreading Over Seven California Counties

PROPERTY LOSS IS HEAVY

Thousands of Acres of Timber Land Swept

SAN FRANCISCO—(By United Press)—Forest fires burning in seven California counties today had destroyed thousands of acres of timber land. More than 1,000 men are engaged in battling the flames.

One million acres of forest land in California was closed to the public by the district forester. Two million additional acres may be closed later.

Airplanes which made flights over the fire zones reported flames spreading rapidly, leaping from patch to patch and of pines 200 feet high burning like giant torches.

Word was telephoned to forest headquarters during the morning that the Lake Elizabeth fire had apparently been checked and should be under control within the next 12 hours unless winds intervene.

Other fires burning today were:

In the Ball Run district of the Sequia national forest, burning over a 2½ mile front with 2,000 acres of timber land and brush land already laid low. In the Tahoe national forest fire broke out again yesterday in the vicinity of Forest Hill, Placer co. All roads in the vicinity have been closed except to persons bearing passes. In the Yreka pass district of Siskiyou co the town of Calpine was saved from destruction by a narrow margin.

In Shasta-co fire is burning over a 6-mile front between Montgomery and Hatchet Creeks in Siskiyou co, two smaller fires were reported left night.

Rigid investigations are being made of all fires to determine the cause.

LOSS IS HEAVY

Forest officials yesterday got reports showing that already the 1924 fire loss in California far outstrips that of last year. This is attributed to the dry winter.

Campaigns are in progress throughout the state against careless burners on setting fires, while coupled with this campaign is one launched to conserve the water supply.

This state, land valley and the southern California sections the country already has become parched.

Street lighting and electric car and train schedules in several cities have been curtailed in order to avoid the situation caused by a shortage of water power for hydro electric power production.

Irrigation in many sections is cut to "water rations."

In newspapers, water and power companies are conducting campaigns to educate the consumers to save water.

In San Francisco all water faucets in public places are hung with cards urging conservation.

The state railroad commission has named a water power adviser who is directing efforts to conserve the power supply in order to avoid a serious situation which may develop in the fall.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

Who I do not live in Lima. I am a daily reader of your column in The Lima News and I wonder if you will give a young girl in Bluffton, Ind., a bit of advice. Will you?

Last night, while I was walking home a young man offered to take me home in his machine. Before thinking I accepted. He took me right home and then he asked if I would go out with him some time. I didn't know what to say, so I said I would let him know. He has my name and address and said he wanted to call some time. I didn't ask him his name. Do.

Please tell me if I have done right or wrong.

Here's my writing. HELENE.

You haven't committed any terrible sin, Helene, but you did a very dangerous thing. It is very silly for a girl to accept a ride with a stranger, especially if it is at night. I mean by that, that people often offer to "give you a lift" on the way to work in the morning and that is generally all right.

If this man comes to see you and impresses you as a gentleman you might ask him to meet your mother and spend the evening at your home. Let your mother judge him also.

However, if you have no idea who or what he is, I wouldn't go out with him.

Dear Miss Smart:

[illegible] the home [illegible] the husband has his mother [illegible]

I have been married three years and [illegible] quarrel about [illegible] mother [illegible] Please don't say I am [illegible] for the men [illegible] him [illegible] his mother [illegible] money [illegible] when he is poor. Don't you think I am right? DOUBTFUL.

Marriage does not change the importance. The person named beneficiary [illegible] it. However, I think you are right when you think your husband should make his provision out to you.

Naturally he should provide for his mother to a certain degree but he certainly owes you some assurance for the future, especially if you have children. It is customary for a husband to name his wife as beneficiary.

Rev. Van Loon on several occasions has spoken from his pulpit against the Ku Klux Klan and has friends and today he had received a number of threatening notes.

GERMANY BUILDS SHIPS RAPIDLY

Regains Seventh Place Despite Heavy War Loss

HAS 2,800,000 GROSS TONS

Half of Her Vessels Lost During Hostilities

HAMBURG, Germany—(By Associated Press)—German shipping claims to be fighting against tremendous odds in its attempt to regain its place in the sun. The loss of 90 per cent of the German commercial fleet thru the war and the terms of surrender means that German ship owners practically have had to start anew. By taking up loans, buying back some of the ships delivered to the entente victors under the treaty of Versailles, and retraining from paying dividends in recent years, the shipping concerns of Germany have gradually worked up a post-war tonnage of 2,800,000 gross register tons, which is about one-half the German pre-war tonnage, and which comprises 4 per cent of the total world's tonnage as compared with 11 per cent in 1914.

From eleventh place in 1920 among the shipping nations of the world, Germany has moved to seventh place by 1924, as compared with second place in 1914.

Count Siegfried Roedern, chairman of the League of German Ship Owners and Freighters, in a prepared statement replying to specific questions, gave the following picture of shipping conditions:

"In 1914 the German merchant marine occupied second place among the merchant fleets of the world as far as actual tonnage was concerned. It then comprised 5,200,000 gross register tons and was surpassed only by Great Britain.

COMPELLED TO PAY

"In the course of the war Germany lost about half of her ships thru seizure, sinking, etc. Next, in accordance with the terms of the Versailles Treaty, she had to give up approximately the second half. Included among the vessels that had to be turned over to the victors were all the larger passenger boats. The Germans were permitted to retain only the ships under 1600 tons and one-half the vessels between 1000 and 1600 tons. By the peace treaty and the the German legislation resulting therefrom German shipping was compelled to pay a part of the war bill immediately in kind, by giving up not only the ships already in the service, but also those under construction.

"It was the sense of the Treaty of Versailles that this delivery by private capital was to be regarded as payment on account by the German Empire and hence to be refunded to the individual concerns by the German state. The financial condition of the Reich made complete indemnification impossible. An agreement was therefore reached between the government and the ship owners, by which the latter were to receive an amount sufficient to rebuild but one-third of their pre-war tonnage. Because of the inflation of the last years the indemnity payments of the government did not not suffice to rebuild the third of the old tonnage agreed upon. Besides, in distributing the government indemnity, the small ship owners were to be given the preference, so that most of the larger concerns were able to finance a replacement program of but 20 per cent of the pre-war tonnage out of the funds furnished by the government. The fact that the larger concerns nevertheless rebuilt on an average of one-third of their old tonnage, is due solely to their watering their stock and assuming new debts.

"Due to the fact that a number of small and middle-sized concerns were able to exceed this program, and that several new companies have been founded, the entire German merchant marine has now, upon completion of the reconstruction program, been brought to 2,800,000 tons—in other words, to about one-half of the pre-war tonnage—both by new construction and thru the repurchase of vessels delivered."

MOVING DAY IS EVERY DAY IN ROCHESTER, SAYS CRESSY

(BY WILL M. CRESSY)

There are 17 ROCHESTERS in the United States, but Rochester, N. Y., is the only one which can get headline mention in the papers without a murder or a scandal.

Rochester's principal claim to fame is that it is the home of George Eastman, the inventor of the kodak and the celluloid film. Every little white sign you see along the road reading, "There's a Picture Ahead," every picture you snap, every moving picture you see, means— ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Probably nine-tenths of all the opera glasses, binoculars, telescopes, stereopticons and lenses used in America are made in ROCHESTER.

Rochester is built beside, over around and under the Genesee river and the falls of the Genesee. There are three of these falls, one with a drop of 96 feet. And one of Rochester's first claims to fame was when Sam Patch jumped, or fell, over these falls. Even he said that a 96-foot drop was "a drop too much."

There are 11 bridges over this river in the city, for no matter where you are in Rochester you will wish you were somewhere else. They do not wait for the first of May to move here. They move any time they can find a vacant house or apartment.

Friends of ours there moved last November. Upon arrival at the new place they discovered that no one had brought any soap. So they sent Buddie, age 7, down to the corner grocery to get a cake. Buddie got it, said "Charge it," and started out.

"But wait a minute," said the store man, "who is it for?"

"It's for ALL OF US," said Buddie.

Rochester was started in 1810. (It is not "settled" yet.)

Rochester used to be a great wine-making locality. They raised grapes and made wine. Now they dry the grapes, make raisins and sell them to Home Cellar Chemists.

They also used to raise wheat and make flour. Now they raise barley and the alcoholic percentage.

Rochester also leads the country in the production of garden seeds. For 15 cents in Rochester you can buy a package labeled "Turnip Seeds" that will come up anything from mustard plasters to clam trees.

Rochester has seven railroads and two canals leading into it, and, which may or may not, according to your opinin of the town, be considered an advantage; the same number leading out of it.

GRANT'S CAMP IS GUARDED

Veteran Presides Over First Ground Used by Regiment

ONLY MEMBER NOW ALIVE

Scenes of Civil War Are Recalled by Him

SPRINGFIELD — (By Associated Press) — Eight miles west of Springfield, on the public highway to Jacksonville, Israel F. Pearce, patriarch, veteran of Grant's army and participant in Sherman's march to the sea, lives in solitude on the land where General Grant pitched camp on his first day's march into the Civil War.

Pearce, the only man now living out of the entire regiment which went into encampment on this spot of ground the night of July 3, 1861, maintains a guard over the old camp ground and over "General Grant's tree," a large, peculiarly shaped black walnut, under which Grant wrote his orders.

Every morning at sunrise the tattered old flag belonging to Pearce is raised from a 30-foot flagpole near his house, and every evening at sundown the flag is lowered.

Pearce acts as a guardian for this historic spot and is glad to relate its history to passing tourists, altho the historical connection is known to few people, and no marks, save the veteran's flag, are to be seen on the land.

"General Grant's tree," some three feet in diameter, stands near the house. Here, Pearce tells tourists, he saw Grant, sitting astride a peculiar limb growth, near the ground, writing out the first day's orders. Grant's tent was pitched a few feet fom the tree, and he once addressed the regiment from a spot near where the tall flagpole now stands.

FIRST MARCH

"The first day's march of the regiment, the 21st Illinois Infantry, was about 11 a. m., and the first camp site was reached about 5 p. m.," Pearce relates.

"The regiment was halted in columns of companies in the woods, arms were stacked and when wagon trains came into camp each company unloaded its wagon, arranged the tents by opening and spreading them on the ground, and at one sound of the drum the tents were raised; at two sounds ropes were stretched, and at the third sound, the stakes were driven and the resiment was under canvas in its first tented field.

"The first day's march was attended with hardships, and there were stragglers and absentees. The punishment was extra guard duty both for officers and men. The men made camp fires and cooked their first meal in camp at this time.

"During the first evening, officers' call was sounded and Grant then Colonel Grant, talked to the men emphasizing the absolute necessity of enforcing respect for the inhabitants of the country thru which the regiment was passing. The captains of the companies were made personally responsible for the acts of the men.

Pearce was quartered both at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, and on July 4, 1863, marched into Vicksburg with Grant, and his army just two years after the regiment left its first camp near the walnut tree. From Vicksburg, Pearce went with Sherman on his march to the sea, thru the Carolinas and on to Washington. He participated in the grand review up Pennsylvania-av at the close of the war

MARKET FOR GERMAN ART TOUCHES LOWEST MARK IN HISTORY OF AUCTION

BERLIN — Recent auctions in this city of paintings and etchings have demonstrated that art is about as cheap a commodity as anything purchaseable in Germany today.

One of the largest dealers in works of art conducted an auction recently for which the most careful preparations were made. Despite the high cost of printing and engraving, the firm went to the expense of reproducing two dozen of the principal works by modern masters offered for sale. Yet when the day came a work by no less an artist than Liebermann, which was conservatively estimated at 20,000 gold marks, went unsold because not even one-fourth of this sum was offered. An oil painting by Ludwig van Hoffmann brought only 50 marks. Other ridiculously low prices were: a large landscape by Ludwig Willroder, 380 marks; a typical painting by Eduard von Gebhardt, 200 marks; landscapes by Eugen Bracht, until recently one of the German favorites, 80 and 90 marks.

What is true of paintings is also true of other artistic things. For antiqu. furniture, for instance, there is practically no demand at this time, and valuable first editions and rare bindings can be bought for low figures.

Walther, Main-st paving contractor, that he drove a heavy moving van onto the new asphalt pavement near Spring-st Friday afternoon and refused to move when ordered to leave. Walther stated he also held up work on the street by blocking it.

Mines told the court that City Manager Bingham had given him permission to drive onto the street, which statement is discredited by Bingham.

Mines is out on $25 bond and the decision is pending.

Carl Flannagan, 318 N. West-st, was fined $25 and costs by Judge Poling Saturdty when he pleaded guilty to driving a machine bearing Michigan license tags which do not belong to him, pleaded not guilty, and was released on $10 bond to appear later.

Claude Bowles, taxi driver, was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to passing a street car on the left side.

J. M. Williams, arrested Friday with exceeding the speed limit, pleaded not guilty and was released on $25 bond to appear Tuesday July 15.

GIANT AIRPLANE BUILT FOR AROUND-WORLD TRIP

Two pilots sit in front, and behind them in the fuselage is a wireless room. Still further back are the sleeping quarters, as large as a motorbus, and gasoline is carried in two floats in sufficient quantity for a 1,000 mile trpl.

COUNTIES PLAN TAX FIGHT

Suits by Utilities to be Contested in Court

LIPPINCOTT IS NAMED

No Settlements Are to be Made Pending Verdicts

Prosecuting Attorney E. T. Lippincott of Allen-co was appointed Friday in a state meeting at Columbus as one of the five prosecutors to fight attempts of Ohio corporations to prevent county collections of utility taxes reputed to be discriminatory.

The Western Ohio Railway Co. with headquarters in Lima is one of the utilities with suits pending in federal court to prevent collection of taxes. The company alleges that the assessed valuation is in excess to the true valuation and seeks an injunction to prevent enforcement of the levies.

In the petition in Dayton federal court The Western Ohio places true valuation as $1,325,000 or one-half of the $2,650,000 valuation recorded for assessment.

PLANS LAID

Thirty-one prosecutors of Ohio counties were present Friday at the state meeting which involves 52 counties. In outlining their plans to fight to a finish the cases pending in Cleveland, Dayton and Columbus federal courts a committee of the defense composed of these attorneys were appointed:

Fred W. Warner, Marion; E. T. Lippincott, Lima; H. E. Parson, Cleveland; J. B. Shopler, Coshocton and Allen G. Aigler, Norwalk.

None of the counties involved are to make a settlement, but will proceed to trial, was the development of the meeting in a motion passed unanimously in which prosecutors agreed that the expense of government of the counties and cities had been based on taxes of these utilities and no settlement would be made whereby the private tax payer would be compelled to burden the load. Fight to a finish in federal courts by the executive defense committee was ordered.

Date for trial of the suits has not been announced in any of the three federal courts. Prosecutor Lippincott announced Saturday. The Central Ohio Gas Co. suit is in Cleveland federal court. The Western Ohio Railway suit is in federal court at Dayton and the other cases are before the Columbus federal court.

FIVE ARE KILLED IN WRECK

Train Crashes Into Auto in New Jersey

HACKENSACK, N. J.—(By United Press)—Five persons were killed when an Erie railroad train struck a motor car near Passiac Junction, five miles west of here, today.

The driver of the car, Andrew Bronelski, 21, was killed instantly as were the other four occupants.

Other dead are:

Andrew Bronelski, Mrs. Julia Bronelski, 48, Mary Yovonipski, 10, Anna and Michael Sikarsi, 6, and 7.

John Bronelski, husband of the woman killed, sat on the front porch of his home and witnessed the accident. It happened after the motor car had stalled twice at the approach to the track. It started suddenly and leaped ahead of the approaching train. The five bodies were strewn along the track for several hundred feet.

Executive Joseph M. Butcher stated Saturday that the boys will not make a round of stores soliciting funds for the association, but will merely act as receiving agents and custodians of receptacles which are located in theaters.

COOLIDGES OFF FOR CRUISE DOWN POTOMAC

WASHINGTON — President and Mrs. Coolidge boarded the presidential yacht Mayflower today for a week-end cruise down the Potomac river. With them were the president's father, John Coolidge who returned with the family from the funeral services at Plymouth, Vermont; John, their son, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston.

All of the family were reported well rested today from their trip to Northampton, Mass., and Plymouth with the body of Calvin Jr. Trips on the yacht have proved very beneficial to Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge and for this reason their friends today urged them to go down the river for the week-end.

Times Change

In 1868 Nicholas M. Bell stood on the platform in Tammany Hall and placed in nomination Horatio Seymour as Democratic candidate for president.

"I was 26 years old at the time," Bell reminisces. "It took me 30 days to get to New York from Salem, Oregon, where I was a merchant."

Bell has lived to see an American in a steel flying machine cross the continent between dawn and darkness of one day. Quite a contrast with making it in a month.

You will see similar startling changes if you live as long as Bell. Speed is our generation's goal. Contentment was more the goal when Bell crossed the continent in 1868. Of course, he'd have gone faster if he could.

Time is a quicksand, swallowing everything. America's oldest shoe shop passes out of existence—the famous boot and shoemaking factory founded by James Benedict in Connecticutt in 1762, and conducted for generations by his descendants.

Benedicts's New Canaan shoes were famous all over the country. They were handmade and sold at wholesale as high as $8.33 a pair, before the Civil War, back when prices were low.

About 30 years ago machine competition began to prove too much for handmade footwear. The Benedicts held on. Now they quit, go out of business.

Machinery is displacing the skill of human hands. And along this line, it has barely started. We are not far beyond the beginning of the Machine Age. But, each year, more and more things are done by machinery.

This puts hand workers out of jobs. But the final result is that they are released for other kinds of production.

By this process the standard of living steadily advances—machinery releasing human labor for the production of a fast-increasing number devices for popular use.

You use hundreds of times as many articles as your grandfather used—and consider them as necessities. For this, thank the monster known as the machine.

Everything has its price. The machine raises the average standard of living. Its penalty is in the way it is enslaving us.

In making shoes, crossing the continent, and thousands of other things, we observe great progress. But most of our progress is mechanical. The more important progress, spiritual, lags.

Our Clothes

A woman can dress modestly for the street so her whole outfit, including shoes, will weigh only 28 ounces. If a man wears less than four and a half pounds of clothes, the policeman is apt to send him home. Discovered by a Boston reporter. Either outfit costs over $60.

Men get a raw deal in hot weather. After watching some of the semi-stripped women tripping along cooly on the streets, a perspiring man wonders if he isn't ethically entitled to walk abroad in pajamas. Equality for sexes!

o o o

War Hinders

War is the greatest obstacle to progress.

France and England again are negotiating to build the much-needed tunnel under the English Channel, to connect the two countries by rail. This project would have been completed years ago if it hadn't been for military reasons.

War occasionally seems to hasten progress. It doesn't, on the average, tho it may occur at the right moment to get credit for achievements due to materialize anyway. World War gave us fast airplanes. What good are they? We need cheap, safe planes, not speed

Farmers Drift

Discontented middle-western farmers used to drift from state to state, then into Canada, as if drawn like the compass needle.

The lure of western Canada is on the wane. Canadian government closes a number of land offices it maintained for a quarter of a century in our western states to entice farmers north. One of these, in Omaha, closes its doors after sending 50,000 farmers across the border. They took 54 million dollars with them.

Where do the drifting farmers land now? Cities, apparently.

o o o

Aero Speed

An airplane that would travel 370 miles an hour! The French government expects this speed from its new "rocket plane", now being developed. No engine. It's shot ahead like a skyrocket, by a series of gas explosions one after the other. Will carry a man—reason not stated.

Ten years ago, people would have said, "Bunk!" Now they merely lift their eyebrows and wonder how long until a plane making 1000 miles an hour will be perfected.

o o o

General Registration

Canada recently ordered all its Chinese residents to register with the immigration authorities. They must furnish their personal history and photographs and prove that they are not in the country illegally. It is suspected that, since they look so much alike, when Mr. Link Cuff returns to China Mr. Bow Wow returns on Link Cuff's passports.

Periodical registration of all residents will inevitably come in America. When we're all compelled to "show our papers" on demand, fitting criminals will be more easily apprehended.

o o o

Money Abused

Are we in earnest or just "talking thru our hats" when we platitudinously abuse money as the root of evil? All people love money, but to hear some of the talk one would think the Almighty Dollar their worst enemy.

Dr. Nils Westermark, Swedish scientist, says America now leads the world in sciences. For this, thank money—which is too much abused. Germany is losing out scientifically because she hasn't the cash to lead in research work. We have.

Friendship

Curtain goes down on American relief work in Germany. By home crops and imports thru business channels, Germany is able to feed herself. American forces under General Allen fed as many as a million German children in a day. Wise investment. A service that will not be forgotten by the rising generation of Germans. Youth is all that really counts in diplomacy—the cannon fodder of the future. Friendship and reconcilation among nations must begin in the cradle.

Fish statistics show every fish weighing over 80,000 pounds has escaped nine times this summer.

Women can keep secrets. A man seldom knows he is going to be married until it is time for him to know.

BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

The Bible's Most Versatile Character

The Baptism of Jesus

Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan

(Mark 1.1-11)

The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.

And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.

And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey,

And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, and latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:

And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Marks begins his Gospel with the preaching of John the Baptist. While Matthew and Luke give us detailed accounts of the birth of Jesus and, together, record the three incidents studied last Sunday relating to his babyhood and childhood, Mark passes over in silence all of the life of Jesus until He appeared before John to be baptized.

Our text today—the first eleven verses of the Gospel according to Mark—deals with John, the forerunner, and the supreme act of his ministry, the baptizing of the Savior.

First, a word as to the preaching of John the Baptist.

He appeared with the kind of a message that the prophet usually presented a call to repentance.

For four hundred years Israel had produced no great leader; then, all at once, John, appeared in fulfillment of the Prophesy of Isaiah: 'I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee

John is represented as "the voice of one crying in the wilderness."

He was clothed with camel's hair, had a leathern girdle about his loins, and ate locusts and wild honey.

He preached "the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins," and the people flocked to hear him.

SIN NATURAL TO MAN

Consciousness of sin is natural to man.

Tolstoy, in rebuking what he called the "cultured crowd," says that religion is not superstition and does not rest upon a vague fear of the unseen forces of nature, but does rests "on man's consciousness of his finiteness amid an infinite universe and of his sinfulness."

This consciousness, he adds, man can never outgrow

It was this consciousness of sin, awakened by the vehemence of John, that greeted Christ when he entered upon his ministry. John was an evangelist and this was one of the earliest of the religious revivals

Some are inclined to underrate, if they do not entirely discredit, the revival, they call it a "religious spasm" and discredit it as a transient outburst of emotion.

They can understand how one can wander away from the path of rectitude, as the prodigal son did, but they cannot comprehend the sudden change that took place when he said, "I will arise and go to my father."

AN EXCELLENT ILLUSTRATION

There is no warrant in the Bible for this hostility to seasons of revival when the quest for souls is pursued with more than ordinary zeal and when extraordinary methods are employed to compel attention and to hasten action

John was an excellent illustration of the effectiveness of unconventional methods. Jesus, in describing him, intimated that his dress, uncouth as it was, was appropriate for his work and in keeping with his environment. He asked:

"But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in king's houses."

The purpose of preaching is to persuade, and people differ widely as to the easiest way of approach

A few may be more easily won by calmness of manner and literary excellence of speech, but the multitude yield more readily when the assault is made upon the heart and conviction is wrought by impetuous argument and powerful illustration. Sin is a revolting fact, but its hideousness must be realized before one will turn from it with an aversion sufficiently strong to be characterized as repentance.

ERROR UNLIKE SIN

To some it may be more pleasant to consider sin as only an error, differing in degree from other errors according to the results that follow.

There is no excuse for such a view. There is a very distinct line between error and sin. The former is mental while the latter is a matter of the heart.

Errors are innumerable—"To err is human." We continually make mistakes in calculation and draw false conclusions from premises that are true as well as from false premises. We may suffer for these errors as the child suffers from burns and from falls. Information will correct mistakes.

Sin, on the contrary, is wilful disobedience to God—the doing of that which we know to be wrong It is not due to lack of information and therefore more information will not cure it. Nothing but repentance will cure sin, and that only because there is One who can forgive.

Sin is an offense against God and can be forgiven only by the Heavenly Father Himself, or by one to whom the Father has given authority.

JOHN'S MESSAGE

John delivered a message that came from heaven—the message of forgiveness that follows repentance, and he also foretold the coming of One whom God had endowed with power to forgive sins.

But John did not presume to exercise this power himself. He was merely the spokesman of the Almighty and the forerunner of One who was mightier than himself—"the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose."

John baptized with water, but Jesus would baptize with the Holy Ghost. Christ's eulogy of John left nothing to be added; He thus commends his forerunner:

"Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist."

"And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth, of Galilee, and was baptized of John in the Jordan."

Jesus gave many lessons in obedience to form, none more striking than the one recorded in our text for today.

It is needless to say that baptism was not necessary in his case—He had no sins to wash away. One who could Himself baptize with the Holy Ghost needed not to be baptized with water, but the Savior was careful to leave nothing undone that the law required.

He submitted Himself to the law, thus commending and confirming the law; He went farther and declared that the law would not be changed until all was fulfilled.

JESUS' EXAMPLE

Jesus was not a formalist in the sense that He placed the letter of the law above the spirit but, while enjoining the observance of the law in its spirit, He set an example of observing the form and letter of the law as well.

May we not find a lesson in this for ourselves?

It is useless to quibble about whether baptism is necessary; it is prescribed as are other matters of form. What pleasure or profit can one find in substituting his own opinion for directions so clearly given and so easily followed?

Christ not only endorsed baptism by submitting to the ordinance Himself in the very beginning of His ministry, but He commanded baptism after His resurrection from the dead.

In His last communion with His disciples, He said:

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

It will be noticed that Christ included Himself as one of the Trinity in whose name the ordinance of baptism should be administered.

HEAVENLY APPROVAL

"And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him."

The dove is to us the symbol of innocence and gentleness. When Christ was on earth, the dove had, in addition to these symbolic meanings, that of sacrifice. The poor who could not afford to buy a lamb for a blood offering were permitted to bring doves. The dove and the lamb were offered on the altar.

"And there came a voice from heaven saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

This testimony was not needed for Christ's own assurance; He was always conscious of the Father's approval. They were in constant communication, if indeed communication was necessary between two united as the Father and Son were in their companionship.

The approval, however, was impressive to those who beheld the descending of the dove and who heard the voice that came out of the heavens.

Twice afterward a voice commended Him—at the transfiguration and in the courts of the temple.

THE JOY OF KINSHIP

This endorsement, thrice bestowed was expressed in just such language as a loving Father would employ to an only begotten Son who had proven His love by His willingness to give His life that the world might thru Him be saved from sin.

And what can God's children receive today that will give them more joy than assurance that they are beloved by the Father for service rendered to their fellow men?

If we are to have the joy that comes from the consciousness of our kinship with the Father, how can we manifest our appreciation of it better than by Christ-like service to all the rest of the children of our Heavenly Father?

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minn.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 933 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minnesota.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of success among American women.

PIOUS PARSON PROVES WORLD BEATER AT 400 METRES

Giants Trounce St. Louis In Ten Inning Affair While Dazzy Vance Beats Killifer's Kids

COTTER GETS RECORD IN GAME WITH ROBINS

The thing of most importance, so far as the National league is concerned, in Friday's battles, was that the Giants won and Killifer's Kids lost, thereby adding to the troubles that will be necessary to knock the clean of McGraw off the pennant perch. There was nothing startling among the also rans. Pittsburgh won 8-2 from Boston, but there is little importance to this, because what chances the Pirates had to fatten their average in this series they lost thru the Braves winning a couple. But out of the ashes of despair comes a record of more properly speaking a tie in baseball records of big leagues. It was Cotter, Cub first baseman, having 21 putouts and one assist to his credit. That's the record for the majors. Another particular incident was the fact that Fournier hit for two circuit swipes in the game against the Cubs. This makes a total of 20 for him, but two behind the Bambino record in the American league.

Cincinnati won, in fact thru the adapt pitching of Pete Donohue, skunked the Phillies. It was a shame in one way, because Jimmy Ring who had done such valiant service formerly for the Reds was pitted against Donohue and he lost his game by a 6-0 count. Ring, it will be remembered, helped materially to make the Reds famous five years ago. But it reads like the fortunes of war, anything is fair. And Ring's reputation was considerably damaged, for he has been pitching fine ball against other clubs, but Friday the Reds lambasted him unmercifully.

The thing to be considered is the fact that the Pirates will have to get a little speed on, for if they don't the Reds will pass them in the race for the National league pennant.

Yanks Again Jump To Top In Race

NEW YORK — New York American baseball stock which slumped below Washington on the major league board almost three weeks ago and at one time sank as low as third place, finally has recovered and Yankee shareholders are rejoicing in the hope of championship dividends. For the past few days the Senators have been the victims of a raid by Detroit and are now in second place by a one game margin.

Manager Evers of the White Sox trotted out his new Minneapolis battery, Mangum and Grabowski, in an effort to even the series with the Yanks but Huggins' men convinced the Trojan in three innings that minor league stars are often major league lemons. Lyons and Schalk succeeded the rookies in the fourth but the worlds champions kept on hitting and pounded out a 12 to 9 victory. Five home runs were hit, including Ruth's twenty-fourth, and Falk's blow with the bases full in the third.

Walter Johnson, after holding Detroit to two hits until the eighth, weakened and Washington lost a four to three decision to the Tigers. The win gave Cobb's men three out of five games series.

St. Louis ousted Chicago from fourth place by splitting a twin bill with Boston. The Browns won the first 8 to 1 and lost the second 7 to 6.

Three Cleveland pitchers suffered a terrible lacing as Philadelphia hammered out a ten to one triumph over the Indians.

WASHINGTON — Washington dropped to second place today when it was defeated, 4 to 3 by Detroit, while New York was winning over Chicago. Walter Johnson held Detroit to two hits until the eighth, when three safeties and a pass were bunched. These, with an error by Bluege, accounted for three Detroit runs. The victory was the third for Detroit in the series of five games that ended today. One of the contests was a draw. The score:

THE CRUEL YANKS

The Yanks won their series from Chicago, four games to two, by slugging out victory in the last game here by a score of 12 to 9. Manager Evers of Chicago, started the game with his new battery from Minneapolis, Mangum and Grabowski, but the former was batted freely and they were withdrawn after three innings. Lyons, Mangum's successor, also was hit hard in the seventh and eighth. Bush was also hit hard and was knocked out in the fifth. Falk hit for a home run with the bases full in the third. Five home runs were hit, Ruth hitting his twenty-fourth of the season. The score:

Pros, 'Ams And Sich

AT THE RINGSIDE

"Ain't it awful what these biscuit and gravy fighters get away with nowadays?"

"Awful? It's raw murder. And look at the important jack they pull down, too!"

"Imagine paying a bologna like Dempsey $400,000 to step a coupla terrible rounds. If that's right, then hair nets make great parachutes."

"It wouldn't be so hard to inhale if Dempsey could really fight, but all he's got is a right hand."

"You uttered a few undying phrases there, Thick Lips. Why, any one of the old-timers would have made him jump out of the ring."

"John L. Sullivan would have flattened him with both hands tied behind his ears, and I don't mean possibly."

"And you don't have to stop with John L. either. Corbett would have left-jabbed him simple, and I understand he ain't far from that as it is."

"I got too much consideration for my imagination to even suggest what Jeffries or Johnson would have done to him without even taking a warm-up."

At this point a florid-face announcer begs the indulgence of the crowd.

"I have the pleasure, ladies and gents, to introduce to you tonight the champeen heavyweight of the world, Mr. Jack Dempsey himself."

Tumultuous apple sauce.

The above debate is continued—

"And I want to say that this Dempsey has got more class than an Astor lawn fete. There ain't nothing he can't do, plus."

"You ain't giving me no inside news, Flat Heels. I saw this superman make gray ashes out of Willard at Toledo."

"You can take the rollcall on the old-timers as far back as you want to but I'll string along with Dempsey."

"String along with him? Say, I'd hate to tell you what this Dempsey would do to them old hams."

LEE SLUMPS AS FIELDER

Dudley Lee, who starred at shortstop for the Boston Red Sox early in the season, is not going so well. Never a great hitter, he has fallen off badly in his fielding—his one strong forte.

ST. LOUIS—Bill Tilden won his way into the finals of the national clay court tennis tournament by defeating Brian Norton 6-1; 6-4 and 6-1.

OLD RUBBER ARM!

REB RUSSELL

They call Russell "Old Rubber Arm." He is one of the most noted relief pitchers in the country and strange to say, he never starts a game.

"INSPIRED ROUNDS" BY ORDINARY PLAYERS

BY JOE WILLIAMS

You hear now and then of a golfer shooting an "inspired round." Maybe that is the phrase for it. It seems to fit the amazing 56 George Duncan scored during the Switzerland championship in 1913, and the almost equally amazing 62 Walter Hagen clicked off over a full length course at Bellaire, Fla., two springs ago. Somehow or other you are seldom surprised at anything the master golfers do.

But how are you to explain the sporadic flashes of brilliancy—the inspired rounds—of the ordinary golfer? By what formula of magic is the 85 player changed suddenly into a 70 scorer? And why does this inexplicable burst of genius always show itself during a match against a champion?

Consider the case of Cyril Tolley. The giant mud horse was good enough to win the French open and go to the finals in the French amateur. Yet in the British amateur he was knocked off by Denys Kyle.

Now who in the heck is Denys Kyle? Nobody ever heard of him in this country, and on the other side he was comparatively unknown. All Kyle did against Tolley was to race around the old St. Andrews course in 4 under even fours.

Tolley himself was 1 under fours. Still he lost 3 and 2. Kyle had bobbed up with one of those "inspired rounds." In briefer butmo re direct phraseology, he had "shot his fool head off."

Bobby Jones probably runs afoul of more "inspired golfers" than any amateur in the world. The skilled and unskilled alike are always strokes beyond their best form when playing against the southern star.

Dave Herron smothered Jones under a blanket of dazzling golf at Pittsburg in 1919. Before that tournament started Herron was a rank outsider a 50-to-1 shot in the pools. Herron has never been close to the title since.

Jones will never forget the "inspired round" Jess Sweetser pulled on him at Brookline two years ago, when the Yale man had him six down at the turn during the morning round, and finished the 18 with a 69.

Imagine any golfer—even a Sweetser—taking six holes from the great Jones over a nine-hole dash?

Black Gold Is Favorite In Derby

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Black Gold, Kentucky derby winner and easy victor in the rating handicap here Thursday, carries the hopes of the west in today's Chicago derby at Hawthorne, a gallop of a mile and a quarter for a purse of $15,000 added.

Nine survivors of the training grind from an original entry list of fifty-nine are scheduled to go to the post in a contest that has resolved itself into a battle between east and west. Fair skies and a fast track are expected to attract an attendance of 40,000.

Hugh Belmont's Ladkin, winner of five races this year on New York is expected to furnish the strongest opposition to Black Gold.

SQUARED CIRCLE

BELLAIRE, Ohio — Battling Siki, the Senegalese boxer, and Ray Bennett, contender for the negro heavyweight championship, meet here tonight in a 12 round bout. Mickey Flynn of Canton and Pierre Nicholas, French welterweight, meet in the eight round semi-final.

The popularity of polo among the United States army officers is shown by the number of players enrolled in the National Polo association handicap list. In 1911 half a dozen names were listed; now 600 are enrolled.

Celina Plays Locals Here Sunday

The claim is that the Limaites have got going, and that none of the other teams of the Ohio-Indiana circuit can head them off. That they are out for the pennant and the souvenir silver cup emblematic of champions. That is the feeling of the local leaguers. They play Celina here at Murphy-st grounds and they are going in to win the game and get into second place. But there are many slips in baseball; its the game of staggering surprises. Celina intimates that with the additions that have already been made, they will set Lima back a peg. Big Dave Westbay, who was mainstay of the Celina team for several seasons, has been released, and he intimated to Manager Halloran that he could pitch the local team to victory against his ex-mates. He's out for revenge, and it is certain that he will do his greatest to make good his word. Such incidents as this often happen in the big leagues as well as the minors and it is interesting to know how near Westbay will make his word good to the Lima baseball fans as well as to Halloran.

Mack Derricks Galloway

Two years ago, American League critics pronounced Chick Galloway of the Athletics the best shortstop, the most improved player in the league. Recently Connie Mack removed him from the lineup because of erratic work in the field.

FLYING SCOTT RUNS AND BREAKS RECORD

PARIS—Four more Olympic finals, including the Decathlon which was started Friday, will be decided Saturday afternoon together with the last of the remaining trials, leaving six finals for the all-star closing bill on Sunday, which is always the biggest sporting day of the week in France.

Finland, in second place, 80½ points behind the pace setting Americans, is still a possible winner, altho far from a probable one. The American score, increased by taking second and fifth places in the 400 metre race, the only final has 103, Great Britain 60½, having advanced thanks to the record breaking performance of Liddell in the 400 metres; Sweden 24½; France 13½; Switzerland 11; Hungary 7½; Canada 5; South Africa 5; Norway 4; New Zealand 4, and Denmark 3½.

The 10,000 metre run provides two finals, inasmuch as it decides both the individual and team winners, the regular number of points being allotted for each first place. Thus the incomparable Finnish distance runners, Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola, alone have an opportunity to add 25 points to their nation's score by placing first and second in this event.

THE HERO OF FRIDAY .....

The particular hero of Friday was the Rev. Eric Liddell, hardy, praying sprinter, who just before the 400 metre race picked up the old family Bible, read it and gained inspiration therefrom, and he prayed, it is said for strength, and when he was called for the gruelling contest he went out, beat his field and broke the world's record; made a new mark of 47 three-fifths. Second to him and about four yards behind came the game little runner from Chicago—Horatio Fitch, who had previously won the semi-final heat, and making a world's record of 47 four-fifths. The race was easily the feature of the day and put spice into a program that was otherwise listless. In drawing for position Liddell drew the outside lane, with Fitch beside him. The field got off well and kept bunched to the turn in the stretch. Liddell was leading with Imbach, the Swiss, second. Imbach proved unlucky in the turn; he caught his foot on a post, holding the stringe dividing the lanes and he fell forward on his face.

Down the stretch came the flying Scott; his characteristic style very noticeable; head thrown back, his eyes pointing Heavenward. Five metres from the finish he increased his lead to four yards, by grace of his wonderful abilities. Five yards from the finish Taylor, punished by the terrific pace, collapsed, falling on his back. He reeled to his feet and limped across the line. He had twisted his ankle.

And Liddell after he had won the great race, hurried home to finish writing his sermon he is to preach in a Paris Presbyterian church Sunday morning. It was a day for the Scotch and they made merry toasting their hero.

PASS UP RELIEF PITCHING

Both Walter Johnson and Grover Cleveland Alexander say they are having a big year because they are not being called upon to do any relief pitching. The veteran star pitchers say three innings of high-pressure relief work takes as much out of them as the ordinary game.

Lewis Still Retains Title

CHICAGO — Ed "Strangler" Lewis retained his heavyweight wrestling world's championship here Friday night in a hard fought match with Mechele Romano, Italian challenger. Struggling two hours and 19 minutes in the intense heat of a packed coliseum and glare of motion picture spotlights Lewis lost twelve pounds and Romano eleven pounds of weight before the champion, by application of a score of punishing headlocks, wore the challenger down sufficiently to gain the necessary two falls. The first came in two hours and fifteen minutes and the last in four minutes.

Both big men were exhausted when the first fall came, but Lewis had a bit more stamina than the Italian.

The contest, the third between the two, was witnessed by 12,000 persons who paid $32,000 for the privilege. The second Lewis-Romano bout here recently ended in wild disorder, the partisans bombarding Lewis and the referee with pop bottles when Lewis gained what they yelled was an unfair decision.

Outside it was one of the year's hottest nights and inside the Coliseum the heat was intense. Not a coat was to be seen and in some instances the excited spectators stripped off their shirts.

LEONARD WEIGHS 146?

Rumor has it that Benny Leonard will never weigh in as a lightweight again. The actor-fighter is said to weigh 146 pounds now and is in fair condition.

MACKS WEAK AT BAT

The Athletics are the weakest hitting team in the majors. That's why they are last. Strand and Bishop have failed to live up to expectations at the bat.

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Stock prices again sought higher levels in today's brief session of the market. Pool operations were actively conducted in a number of specialties while some of the popular industrials, such as American Can, Colorado Fuel, Davison Chemical and Mack Truck improved materially on short covering.

Except for the establishment of new peak prices by the three issues and Pittsburgh and West Virginia, there was little of interest in the railroad group. Public utilities continued in strong demand, gains of 3 to 4 points being recorded by Pacific Coast first preferred, Virginia Railway and Power and United Railways investment first preferred.

The closing was firm.

Sales approximated 450,000 shares.

MARKET IS FIRM AT CLOSE

Material Gains Also Scored in Corn Quotations

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Fresh advances in the price of wheat took place today during the early dealings, crop reports both from Canada and Europe having a decidedly bullish aspect. One expert telegraphed from Saskatoon in Canada saying that thru a drive of 180 miles he found much of the crop was badly fired. The fact that only scattered showers were predicted for the Canadian wheat belt today did a good deal to stimulate buying. Initial prices which ranged ⅝c to 1¼c higher with Sept. 1.16⅝@1.17 and Dec. 1.19⅞@1.20¼, were followed by material further gains.

Scarcity of offerings here together with unwelcome rain, gave the corn market a new upturn. September went above $1 for the first time this season. After opening unchanged to 2½ up, Sept. 99⅜ to 99½, all deliveries scored an advance.

Oats sympathized with the upturn of other cereals. Starting unchanged Sept. 45, the market soon hardened.

Provisions were responsive to the corn bulge and to a new rise in the value of hogs.

The wheat close was firm, 2c to 3⅝ higher, Sept. 1.18½ to 1.18⅝ and Dec. 1.21⅛ to 1.21⅝.

The corn close was firm, ⅜ to 3⅛c net higher, Sept. 1.00⅞@1.01.

PRODUCE REVIEW

BY SWIFT & CO.

Butter production showed a slight decrease last week, which is attributed to the Fourth of July holiday. All indications point to a larger amount of butter to be manufactured this week.

Last year, after the middle of July the flow of milk decreased materially and there was quite a falling off in the amount of butter reaching the larger markets of the country. With ideal sections, it is expected that we will not experience the same decrease this year.

Butter is being placed in storage at a more rapid rate than a year ago, and indications are that the market will work a little lower so as to induce a larger current consumption.

As is usually the case at this time of year, surplus fowl are marketed, and this situation has resulted in the lowest quotation. 23c for live fowl, that has prevailed on the New York market for the past six months. Buyers have generally reduced their prices in order to conform to eastern selling values.

Spring chickens are moving in constantly increasing quantities each week, and prices will probably continue to sag a little each week until they reach a storing value.

The egg market reacted quickly from the lower quotations prevailing a week ago, and while prices have not quite reached their former value a feeling of confidence prevails and eggs at present prices are considered to represent good values.

It is noticeable that the general qquality is far superior to that received in any previous year at this season. It proves conclusively that care and attention given to the production, gathering, and marketing of eggs improves the general quality and prices paid on the markets of the country

Suit for $2,500 Claim is Filed Here Saturday

Automobile-train crash on April 8 at N. Jackson-st crossing of the Pennsylvania Railway was echoed Saturday morning in common pleas court with the filing of a $2,500 damage claim against the railway company by Lawrence Schrock, N. Jackson-st.

Schrock claims in his petition that his Ford automobile valued at $700 was demolished; he sustained an injured hip and wrist, and that the shock of the crash injured his nervous system. He seeks $2,500 compensation as balm for his suffering and personal loss.

Negligence of the train crew and absence of a crossing watchman at an early hour at the crossing resulted in the accident, which occurred while Schrock was enroute home from work. His automobile was hit by the switch engine and hurled to the north side of the tracks by the engine and hit a pole. It was almost demolished.

No Truth, Durbin Says, in Sensational Ouster Story

Hon. John H. Goeke and Dan Dirwin, delegates to the late Madison square garden party, together with Francis Durbin, the attorney, who was prominent in the final hours of the get-together feast, arrived home from New York Saturday morning, singing the praises of the new democratic ticket.

Attorney Durbin was quite incensed over the story used by the United Press in connection with his being put out of the convention hall. "There wasn't an iota of truth in that yarn," said Durbin to The News. "And I learned the United Press later in the afternoon sent out a kill order on it."

Durbin was instrumental in getting a compromise for Bryan for second place. He was the emissary who secured the consent of Bryan to accept, and consent from the Davis managers to put the Nebraskan on for vice president.

DEATH BROUGHT TO DREAMS

Part Played by Oxford, American Scholar Says

ALLEGED PRETENCE BARED

U. S. Praised in Comparison With England

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — Oxford University has found a subject for heated discussion in a speech made recently by a Rhodes Scholar from the United States, W. C. Greene of Rhode Island, a graduate of Brown University. Greene was replying to a toast proposed by Rudyard Kipling at the annual dinner at Oxford of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

"Oxford and Europe," said Greene, as reported in the Daily Mail, "have brought death to us of our dreams, our romance and our hopes that here we find three years of life of continuous strangeness and duty.

Romance is dead in us and the gray unbeautiful buildings of Oxford have become just old fashioned buildings, and oftentimes prisons both of the soul and body. Oxford has not been Elysium nor has our experience of the continent.

But two things have come to a good many of us. We have learned the plain old fashioned prehistoric antediluvian joy of just sitting down. We have come to see that idle and idleness of the body are not terms of contempt.

The prime minister of England represents to many of us the thing which Oxford has brought to us rightly or wrongly. Here we have sat down frequently sometimes with intense reverence at the feet of the grizzled figure of history.

SECRET HOPE

We have come to see the need of the new attitude towards peoples and people towards the state. We go home many of us with the secret of hope that some day we may enter the politics of our own country and perhaps breathe in the slow amalgam of our nature the recognition of the social truth which has been enunciated so many times and so vainly during the last 2,000 years. And we who are youngsters, the older ones seem often inclined to do can fear.

We do not go home with regrets. Whatever may have been the unexpressed desires of Cecil Rhodes in laying the foundation of these scholarships if he meant us to be another nation he meant it as to become members of that great creed for which St. Paul gladly has labored so long and [illegible] we trust dear [illegible] hopes.

Oxford and England and Europe have only made us love America more. We become more American every day that we live here. We are sick of handshaking across the seas.

Long ago we resigned our position as unofficial ambassadors. We go home gladly and eagerly to a nation which we know and love and understand, if often we cannot admire it.

We go home with some appreciation of duty and appreciation of human life. Some day, perhaps, some of us may amount to something if the life of idleness has not become too strong.

AMERICAN FLIERS ARE OFF FOR BUCHAREST

CONSTANTINOPLE — The United States army aviators on a round the world flight left Constantinople at 6:10 o'clock this morning Greenwich time for Bucharest, Rumania.

The American aviators have thus far made their flight in the same planes in which they left the United States, making only two changes in motors and one forced landing. One wing of one of the planes was repaired after a native craft ran into the machine as it was anchored at Panscoon. Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commander of the expedition, who has pluckily stuck to his job despite an attack of dysentery in India and a broken rib from a descent in Calcutta, now is in good condition.

SNAKES SLEEP SOUNDLY THIEVES STEAL STATUE

HAMBURG — The largest bronze snake in Germany, which occupied a prominent place in Carl Hagenbeck's animal farm near Hamburg, was stolen recently by thieves who the police said would probably sell the statue for old metal. The bronze snake stood on a pedestal in the center of the snake yard, which is a kind of jungle so that the inhabitants might be reminded of their native haunts and feel perfectly at home.

The management believed that the snakes were better than watch dogs to guard this valuable piece of statuary, but the thieves apparently had no fear of the thousands of reptiles with which the centre and [illegible] were [illegible] than being fussed at.

ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE VOTED

Pope, However, Hasn't Acted in Gould Case

ROME —(By United Press) — Statements that Pope Pius has ratified annulment of the marriage of the former Anna Gould to Count Boni De Castellane, are premature as yet and no official announcement has been made. The United Press was informed from reliable Vatican sources today.

The only basis for such statements, apparently is a report being circulated here that the commission of three cardinals appointed by the holy father to investigate the case, has voted for the annulment.

Attorneys Ferrata and Saccata who represented the interested parties before the commission state the case has been disposed of but that the decision remains secret.

Anna Gould is now the Duchess Talleyrand, having married the duke after her civil divorce. Decastellane applied for papal annulment soon after the civil divorce decree but failed.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — Miss Pauline Hessler, who graduated from the high school at Hughesville near here this year, traveled more than 6,500 miles on horseback during the four years of her school course, she estimated having ridden a pony from her home to school and back each day.

Last year Miss Hessler rode 1,600 miles from the time school opened until commencement. She declared the exercise brushed the dust from her brain and made her able to think and work better.

TOOLS OF ANCIENT DAYS USED TO MAKE FURNITURE

WENDOVER, England — Tucked away in the woods near the country residence of the British premiers at Chequers Court are men making modern furniture with tools similar to those used hundreds of years ago.

The workshops built in a wigwam style beneath trees contain a primitive kind of lathe made of branches of trees and bits of wire, the motive power being supplied by a long and supple branch fixed to a tree stump outside the workshop. Each lathe turns out as many as a gross of chair-legs daily. Most of the craftsmen elderly, and the oldest not only takes his meals at his lathe, but is said to sleep beside it at night.

was for the purpose of learning from Mr. Davis direct his views on the important issues before the country. I am satisfied that he is in full accord with the progressive program outlined in the Democratic platform.

"Mr. Davis' professional connections and association with great banking houses and corporations, altho concededly ethical in every way, have raised doubts in the minds of many as to his progressivism and to his complete sympathy with the great reforms the Democratic party must execute if it is to serve the genuine interests of the people. These doubts are not justified because a lawyer's views on economic, political and social questions are no more to be judged by his professional associations than is a physician to be judged by the character of his patients. Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and service should satisfy any apprehension of this sort.

PROMPT ACTION SOUGHT

I am confident that as president he would faithfully execute the party's progressive mandate. If I did not believe this I could not render aid because I have always believed that the interests of the people should never be subordinated to a merely slavish partnership.

"There is a deep seated determination on the part of the progressive forces within the Democratic party and those outside of it desiring to cooperate to force prompt and decisive action on the part of the next administration solution of the pressing problems of agriculture, transportation, tariff, taxation and foreign relations which have been so horribly manhandled by the Republican administration. The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by division between various political movements, they must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram of that party which offers the best instrumentality for service to the people. Clearly there is no promise in the Republican party. Clearly there is a promise in the Democratic party if this progressive influence is wisely and vigorously used within that political organization. The hope of genuine reform and progress is more likely to be realized at this time thru the Democratic party than thru any of its opponents.

"I shall therefore give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign upon my return early in September."

proceeds of which will be turned over to the Red Cross in the devastated area.

Money subscribed in the state thru the governor's apportionment plan will be utilized for personal relief and not for restoration of municipal properties or schools, but to provide homes for hundreds who are living in tents and give food to those whose suffering has been acute.

MAY DEPORT THREE OF CLEVELAND CHINAMEN

CLEVELAND — Deportation proceedings are to be launched at once again three of the 21 Chinese arrested here to prevent outbreaks between factions of the On Leong Tong, Chinese merchants' association, in convention here, William Flynn, immigration inspector, said today.

Of this twenty, three do not have proper immigrant identification cards and may be deported.

SUGAR PRICE WORRIES MOUNTAIN MOONSHINERS

COLUMBIA, S. C. — The ups and downs of the sugar market have a real meaning for the makers of moonshine, according to Robert Kirksey, United States marshal for the western district of South Carolina. His jurisdiction includes that portion of the mountainous regions of the state known commonly as the Dark Corner, which had a reputation for producing "good corn" in blockade stills long before the Volstead edict.

Sugar and molasses, Kirksey said, play an important part in the manufacture of moonshine liquor and the lower the price of those staples the higher the profits of the manufacturers who often buy sugar by the ton.

GOV. BRYAN SPENDS DAY IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — Governor Bryan of Nebraska, Democratic vice presidential candidate, spent today in Washington, attending to semi-official business matters, and incidentally conferring with chairman Hull of the Democratic national committee, about the national campaign. He intended to leave for his home, travelling by way of Chicago, tonight, and declared that one of his first duties would be to notify the Nebraska state Democratic committee that it would have to select a new candidate for Governor to run this fall.

"I can't be running for two offices at once," the governor observed, "altho just before the national convention met at New York I had been given a renomination for governor."

BIG GIFTS TO BE BARRED

LaFollette Chiefs Adopt "Poor Man's Campaign Fund" Plan

BY MILTON MACKAYE

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—Lafollette leaders today were the proud parents of a brand new political idea. They call it the 'poor man's campaign fun."

Birth of this strapping youngster was announced unofficially as executive heads of the progressive national committee went into closed session here in their first important meeting.

The "poor man's campaign fund," its originators say, will solve without trouble the difficult problem of financing an independent candidacy. It will "prove at once popular and practical."

Large contributions will be barred. Millionaires, even if they see fit, will not be allowed to assist Lafollette toward the presidential chair.
